JUNE 2016

A photograph of a modern dining room. The room features large, floor-to-ceiling windows with dark frames, offering a view of a lush green landscape with trees and a golf course. The walls are made of natural stone, and the ceiling is a light-colored wood. A large, curved, white pendant light hangs over a dark wood dining table. Several beige upholstered chairs are visible. A striped curtain is partially drawn to the side of one of the windows.
